Shipping Policy

UPDATE: Due to Covid19, mail delivery services such as USPS and UPS are experiencing limited delivery routes, which is causing delays in normal delivery times. Once your package leaves our facility, it is now in the hands of the carrier service company. As such, you will need to work with them to ensure delivery of your order.

Current Medical Technologies, Inc. offers two shipping carriers services: UPS and USPS for all orders. Orders placed by Physicians, Physical Therapists or their facilities are shipped via UPS Ground, unless otherwise directed by them. Orders placed by customers/patients are typically shipped via USPS Priority Mail, unless otherwise directed by them. Current Medical Technologies is not responsible for any lost or damaged items once it leaves our warehouse. Customers with lost or damaged items will have to seek resolution with the carrier service company they chose.

Orders placed before 2:00 pm ET are usually shipped the same day unless product is backordered. Orders placed after 2:00 pm ET are usually shipped the next business day unless the product is backordered. Orders placed after 2:00 pm ET on Friday are shipped the following Monday unless product is backordered or falls on a holiday. Current Medical Technologies, Inc. will notify customers via email with respect to anticipated shipping date for all back-ordered products.

USPS delivery times vary depending on your location and day of order.

UPS delivery times vary depending on your location, with the average delivery time of 2-6 days. Our shipping warehouse is based in Massachusetts; therefore, orders going to the North East US can expect delivery from 1-3 days, while orders going to the West Coast can expect delivery time ranging from 4-6 days. All orders are shipped F.O.B. Shipping Point. Please note, UPS does not consider the day of pick up as the first day of shipping. Customers should take this into consideration when choosing any type of expedited shipping.

Please note, if your package has been marked delivered by the United States Postal Service or UPS and you have not received it, you must contact the United States Postal Service or UPS directly. Once a package has been marked delivered, we have no recourse with USPS or UPS because it has left our warehouse and is no longer our property. USPS and UPS will not release any details to us regarding where the package may have been left. As such, it is the sole responsibility of the customer to contact USPS and UPS to inquire as to where the package may have been left by their local carrier. The customer may repurchase the order at their own expense. CMT will not be responsible once it has been delivered. No exceptions.

UPS does not deliver on Saturdays and Sundays. Customers should take this into consideration when choosing Next Day Air or 2nd Day Air Shipping.

UPS does not deliver on major U.S. holidays. It is the responsibility of the customer to check the UPS website for a list of observed UPS Holidays. Customers should also take this into consideration when choosing Next Day Air or 2nd Day Air Shipping.

REMINDER: Please be sure to refer to the USPS or UPS website before placing your order online order as expedited shipping may be interrupted or not available during any holiday. CMT will not be responsible for late deliveries during this time period.

Release :

Genetics, pregnancy, delivery, heavy lifting, poor breathing and/or chronic straining can lead to structural and anatomical changes in a woman's pelvic structures; such as Rectocele or pelvic floor drop. These changes can lead to weakened and compromised support for the pelvic organs (vagina, uterus, rectum and/or bladder). These conditions are often referred to as pelvic organ prolapse or pelvic relaxation. The benefits of using the Release is to support the pelvic tissues so that the bowels can fully evacuate without straining, and to protect vulnerable tissues from further stress. Release enhances your quality of life by providing ease of bowel movement with less discomfort and better efficiency.

- ▶ The Release helps to create a more anatomical positioning so the bowels can be emptied with ease.
- ▶ Silicone wrapped for soft, comfortable ease of use
- ▶ Elongated handle to accommodate all body types including pregnancy

SoftWave Tissue Regeneration

Unlock the potential of cutting-edge innovation with SoftWave, a groundbreaking tissue regeneration technology designed to accelerate the healing process and restore vitality to your body. Engineered with precision and backed by years of scientific research, SoftWave is the epitome of advanced medical solutions.

Key Features:

Versatile Applications:

SoftWave addresses a wide spectrum of medical needs, ranging from orthopedic injuries to pelvic health concerns. It has demonstrated effectiveness in alleviating joint pain, musculoskeletal disorders, soft tissue injuries, and various other conditions. Its versatility makes it a preferred option for healthcare professionals seeking advanced regenerative therapies.

In the realm of pelvic health, SoftWave is rapidly gaining popularity. Supported by numerous completed studies, it remains a top choice among pelvic health practitioners. With its extensive range of treatable applications, SoftWave is aiding patients dealing with issues such as erectile dysfunction, PGADS, Peyronie's Disease, and more. Multiple studies have explored the effects of treatment on patients with different pelvic conditions, including Stress Urinary Incontinence, Urge Incontinence, Vulvodynia, and Vestibulodynia. The results indicate a significant improvement in these symptoms post-treatment, with many patients maintaining these improvements over time. For further information on pelvic health studies, please contact your CMT representative.

Regenerative Powerhouse:

SoftWave harnesses the innate power of regenerative medicine to stimulate cellular activity and promote tissue repair. At the cellular level, SoftWave penetrates the cell membrane, leading to a 2% contraction and 10% expansion of the cell, a phenomenon known as Mechanotransduction. This process creates a perception of trauma without causing any actual tissue damage, initiating the activation of the body's natural defense mechanisms. This leads to reduced inflammation, enhanced circulation and blood flow, and the elimination of toxins, thereby promoting the activation of stem cells after treatment.

Radial vs. Electrohydraulic Acoustic Shockwave

Frequently mistaken for Shockwave devices, Radial machines on the market often lead to patient discomfort and a wait of up to two weeks before any relief is felt. Moreover, Radial devices can induce micro/macro-trauma, making them less than ideal for pelvic floor applications.

SoftWave, an Electrohydraulic Broadly Focused device, induces no micro trauma and yields superior results for patients while promoting the body's natural innate healing processes. With its patented applicator featuring a flashlight head, SoftWave enables broad-focused penetration of up to 6 inches. It stands as the sole genuine shockwave solution capable of reaching wide and deep areas, making it ideal for pelvic floor treatment.

Patient-Centric Design:

SoftWave is designed with patients in mind, prioritizing comfort and ease of use. SoftWave eliminates the need for surgeries and extensive recovery periods, providing a gentle yet effective approach to healing. Due to the pelvic floor's location, these muscles are often challenging to meaningfully treat. SoftWave's patented applicator proves ideal for targeting this often hard-to-reach musculature. The non-invasive nature of the technology ensures a patient-friendly experience, making it accessible to individuals of all ages seeking optimal health and well-being.

V2 Supporter: Compression therapy for vulvar varicosities or the feeling that “everything is going to fall out the bottom.” During pregnancy, vulvar varicosities can occur for many reasons. Increased weight of the enlarged uterus sometimes creates pressure on veins in the pelvic area and interferes with the flow of blood returning from the legs. Naturally higher levels of estrogen promote growth, while increased progesterone tends to relax the smooth muscles of the vein walls. The relaxed veins can become distended and “pop out” as vulvar varicosities. Wearing the V2 supporter before rising in the morning helps prevent excessive swelling of the vulvar veins. The V2 Supporter provides clinically proven compression therapy. Size is based on current pregnancy weight.

PATIENT TRAINERS

Pathway® STM-10: A very sophisticated unit for its size and price. By depressing the up arrow key when turning the instrument on, the clinician is able to program the system by following a series of menu driven prompts that adjust session time, Work/Rest intervals and frequency. The STM-10 will accept a direct connection to the PG-6330 (internal sEMG/NMES vaginal sensor) or the PG-6340 (internal sEMG/NMES rectal sensor). The STM-10 is Medicare approved for up to 80% coverage for qualifying patients.

Liberty® Pelvic Floor Stimulator: The easiest to use and most cost-effective PFS system available. It is designed to treat stress, urge and mixed incontinence, and consists of a stimulation device and can be used with any of the Liberty sensors (sensors sold separately, see pg. 15). It can also be used with the Pathway sensors when used with the PG-3700 Adapter. The Liberty is Medicare approved for up to 80% coverage for qualifying patients.

Pathway® TR-10 & TR-10c: Our most popular patient trainer, the TR-10 is a single channel programmable sEMG patient trainer. The system features a 1-800 microvolt scale for general orthopedic rehab applications and with a few adjustments, the scale can be changed to 1-30 micro-volts, for more reactivity, which is usually needed for pelvic floor patients. The system allows for above and below goal setting for both strength and relaxation training and even features two work/rest settings of 5/10 and 10/10. The TR-10c is most commonly recommended as a patient trainer for those patients who prefer not to re-program the instrument each time they use it or for patients where the therapist feels compliance may be an issue.

CMT's Home Rental DME Program

With a full time DME staff dedicated to coordinating information between Patients, Physicians, Physical Therapists and insurance companies, CMT is the best choice to provide your patients with the instrumentation needed for their pelvic muscle rehabilitation home treatment program. As of 2012, we became Medicare accredited and can now streamline our paperwork while keeping our entire patient billing in-house. We are the only company in this sector that offers these services!

What we provide:

1. Full-time staff available to answer your questions Monday – Friday.
2. Pre-certification of your patients' insurance benefits within 3-5 days. (Provided we are able to contact the insurance company.)
3. Guarantee that the products we offer are in stock and ready to ship (except for manufacturer's backorders.)
4. Direct billing to insurance or patient with no Clinician involvement.

Rx Pad Program

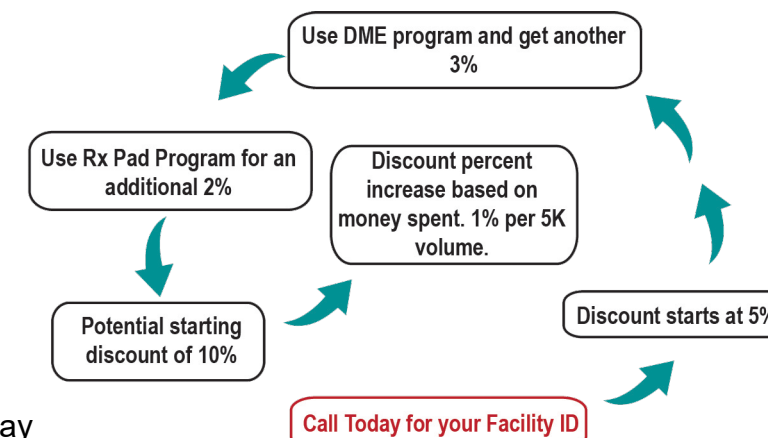

The program tracks the total dollar volume of products purchased by you, your facility, and your patients and rewards everyone with discounts based on the total volume amount. Not only does the facility get the discount, but it can be passed along to your patients. It's a win-win for everyone!

The dollar volume is comprised of:

1. Facility Purchases
2. Patient purchases (either by phone or online)
3. DME (Home Rental) Purchases and Rentals*
4. Instrumentation Repairs

Remember, your Facility ID# is the gateway for determining your overall discount level. Each January we will assess your total sales volume and corresponding discount level. Should you increase your total sales and surpass your current discount level then you will jump to the next level. The greater your volume of business, the higher the discount level you and your patients will get to enjoy. Enroll today!

What is the Process to Enroll?

*Per our Medicare Accreditation we cannot extend RX Discount to DME units.

Prices subject to change without notice. Please visit cmtmedical.com to check for up-to-date pricing.
